

Fun Facts About Me!

The Frog

I belong to the Ranidae family

Where do I live?

Every continent apart from Antarctica

How many Frogs are there in the world?

There are over 7,000 different species worldwide

Did you know?..

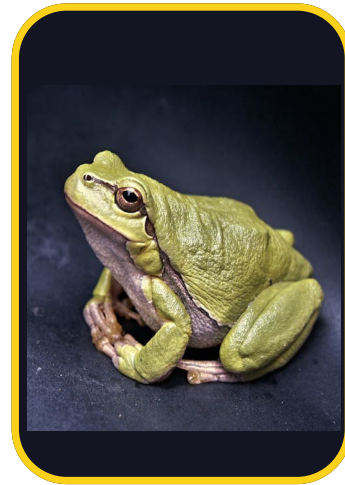

Frogs eat flies and insects which they catch with their sticky tongue

Frogs shed their skin once a week

You might see a frog sitting quietly on a Lily pad!

Each frog has its own croak, and can be so loud it can be heard a mile away.

Can you pretend to be a frog?

My Life Cycle...

Frogspawn

1-3 weeks

Frogs can lay up to 5000 eggs called "Frogspawn". The eggs are enclosed in jelly and hatch after about 3 weeks.

Tadpole

6-9 weeks

The tadpole starts to grow. As he grows the legs and eyes start to develop. He eats plants.

Froglet

9-12 weeks

The tadpole has started to develop lungs to breath. His tail starts to shrink, and he begins to eat insects

Adult

12-16 weeks

The tail disappears and the frog and he is now a fully grown Amphibian- able to live on land and in water

Frogs can live from 1 year old to 30-40 years old

In the UK most frogs live around 5-10 years in the wild

